Damascus, Syria

Re: Communication Officer (Digital)

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to apply for the Communication Officer (Digital) position at UNICEF Syria in Damascus. With over a decade of experience in technology, systems development, and digital content creation, combined with a deep understanding of the Syrian context, I am confident in my ability to contribute to UNICEF's mission of advocating for children's rights and amplifying their voices through impactful digital communication.

In my recent role as an Android Native & Web3 Developer, I designed and developed interactive digital experiences, including a Unity-based AI voice-driven game with real-time voice interaction and dynamic dialogue. This experience has strengthened my ability to produce engaging multimedia content, manage digital platforms, and leverage emerging technologies to create compelling narratives. I have also developed and maintained websites, managed online presence, and created digital content that resonates with diverse audiences.

My technical background, including an MSc in Big Data Systems, has equipped me with strong analytical skills and the ability to monitor and evaluate the performance of digital communication strategies. I am proficient in using data to optimize content, measure engagement, and ensure that communication efforts are evidence-based and impactful. I am also experienced in social media management, content creation, and visual storytelling.

I have extensive experience collaborating with government ministries, international partners, and diverse stakeholders in Syria. This has given me a strong understanding of the country's context and the importance of clear, sensitive, and effective communication in humanitarian settings. I am fluent in Arabic and English, based in Damascus, and available for immediate employment.

I am deeply committed to UNICEF's mission to protect and empower children. I believe my technical skills, creative abilities, and local knowledge make me a strong candidate to support UNICEF Syria's communication and advocacy efforts.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the opportunity to contribute to UNICEF's vital work in Syria.

Yours sincerely,

Mouhannad Allouf
